

Workshop Funding for M.Psych, M. Psych/PhD, & D.Psych Students

Organisations such as the Australian Psychological Society frequently conduct professional development activities for Psychologists, such as workshops. Students are often interested in attending these workshops, however registration fees (which are typically $200 or more) can prohibit students from being able to attend. In an effort to overcome this issue, students enrolled in any Master of Psychology (by coursework), M.Psych/PhD, or D.Psych program at UWA are able to apply for financial support to attend ONE workshop during their degree.

Conditions

1. The workshop must be approved by the program coordinator.
2. The workshop must enhance professional development.
3. The workshop content must not be already part of the program.

Provided these conditions are met, the School will cover 50% of the cost of the workshop, up to the value of $100.

Application Procedure

1. Fill out the application form below.
2. Attach documentation about the workshop (such as a flier / advertisement), a copy of the workshop registration form showing how much the registration fee is, and a brief statement (maximum one page) outlining how the workshop will add to your professional development.
3. Submit the form and supporting documentation to your program coordinator.
4. Your program coordinator will use the documentation you have provided to assess whether the workshop satisfies the conditions (see above).
5. The program coordinator will approve or decline your application.
6. If your application is approved, take your form (signed by your program coordinator) to the school's Accounts Officer, Ann Deveson-Kelly. Ann is located on the ground floor (G17) of the main psychology building. She will arrange access to the relevant funds.
